BACK FROM THE COAST

Edmonton Business Man Thinks We Should Have the Dominion Fair Three Years Hence

Ex-Alderman A. T. Cushing, returned from an extended visit to the Pacific coast cities. He thought the Portland fair was very good, the United States Government buildings showing the different departments of the Government services being splendid. The military and naval displays, the miniature floating and dry docks, impressed him very favorably. Portland is not growing very fast, Seattle seemingly being the most prosperous city on the coast. On the boat between Victoria and Seattle he met Rev. Dr. McQueen and T. M. and Mrs. Turnbull of this city.

Vancouver impressed Mr. Cushing very favorably. The shipping facilities are splendid, the people are progressive and hustling for business. The Government is building a fine new post office and the Canadian Bank of Commerce is putting up an immense block.

At New Westminster the fair was not an unqualified success, lack of executive ability seemingly being the cause, together with the inclement weather. The directors are said to be $1000 short.

Speaking of fairs, Mr. Cushing said that in three years' time Edmonton ought to secure the Dominion Fair, and he felt that if plans were laid accordingly, we should get it then and have a fair that would be a credit to us indeed.

LEAGUE ENTERTAINS

The Epworth League of the Grace Methodist church entertained the members of the Strathcona League last evening. Owing to the cold weather the Strathcona people were late in arriving but when they did arrive the warm welcome they received compensated for the chill out of doors. A program of songs, recitations and addresses, was heartily rendered. A quartette composed of Mr. and Mrs. Stutchbury, Mrs. Moore, and Mr. J. Jamieson, sang very sweetly and were much appreciated, as also were the selections of the male quartette, Messrs. Tuttle, Stutchbury, Jamieson, and Vailley. Recitations by Mrs. Morris, Miss Carnegie, and Mr. Adamson were very much enjoyed. Speeches from Rev. Johnson and the president of the Strathcona League, and songs by Mrs. Franklin, trio by Mrs. Soule, Miss McCallum, and Miss Handing, completed the program. A dainty lunch was served and the meeting dispersed after singing the National Anthem.

WORLD BEATERS

Pembina River, Oct. 16.—I noticed the exhibits in the Bulletin window of five potatoes grown by Mr. H. J. Salson, Edmonton, which weigh 6 lbs. 3 oz. Well, that is very good. But if Mr. Salson would honor us by a visit he could see wagon loads of that kind here and one potato which weighs even 6 lbs. and five potatoes which weigh 24 lbs. 5 oz. Rev. Mr. Telfer and Mrs. Telfer and several others have seen them weighed, and give me permission to mention their names to that effect. There were 450 bushels in 3-4 of an acre. They were grown in the Pembina River valley on Paul Ross' ranch.

NATURAL PROSPERITY

John Burns, the British M. P., who recently toured Western Canada, said in Toronto that he had no hesitation in recommending his fellow countrymen who are willing to work, to come to Canada. Everyone is meeting with success, and not the least of those who prosper are the old country natives. Mr. Burns was delighted with the Canadian west and believes the possibilities are not excelled by any country on earth.

"Some people talk of the boom in the west, but it is not a boom, but it just seems to be natural prosperity."

LIBERAL MEETING TONIGHT

All Liberals and supporters of Hon. C. W. Cross are invited to attend the meeting in the Young Liberal Club rooms this evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Cross will address the meeting.

STRATHCONA NEWS

Interesting Items from Edmonton's Sister Town

Strathcona, Oct. 17.—Mr. McGoulin left yesterday with his new traction engine threshing outfit, for Vegreville. He expects to be in business there in a few days.

Mr. Crawford of Mannville left town today for Leduc. He is taking a bunch of cattle from the latter place to the Vermilion district.

Manager McGure of the Chicago Tank Co. commenced work this morning on the elevated water tank for the town water works.

Messrs. Moravice Farmer, Vausich and Annable of town left today for Beaver Hills. They are on a hunting and prospecting tour and intend homesteading or buying land in that locality. They will be away about two weeks.

R. A. Peterson of the Royal received a letter, Monday, from his brother in Detroit, stating that himself and family and several other parties would leave there on Nov. 10th for this neighborhood. They propose bringing stock, wagons, implements, &c., and purchasing a large block of land to engage in sheep ranching on an extensive scale. They have selected Northern Alberta for their business after much deliberation and many enquiries.

Work on the cement elevator at Brackman-Ker's mill and also that on the elevated water tank was suspended this morning owing to unfavorable weather.

Mr. Armstrong is busy these days deepening the wells which have been rendered useless owing to the deep town sewer drain.

Mr. Cowan, a retired farmer of Stratford, Ont., has been since Sept. 5th, touring through Manitoba, Assiniboia and Alberta. He has made careful examination as to climate, soil, water supply, crops, mineral resources, and future prospects and is of the opinion that Northern Alberta has the most natural and economic advantages and therefore preferable to all other localities.

NO TELEGRAPHIC SERVICE

The C.P.R. Telegraph wires are in trouble today and no press despatches could be got through today.

CRICKET

The cricket club will give a smoking concert next Saturday, Oct. 21st, at 8 o'clock in Mountfield's new residence on Twelfth street, west, and corner of Mackay avenue. Tickets can be obtained from Messrs. Mountfield, Jones, Richardson, Stocker or Strongthorn.

The prize pair will be presented on that occasion; one of these is for the highest batting average, the other is for the winner of the best bowling average this season.

The cup team will be photographed next Saturday in Mr. Brown's studio at 230 (in flannels).

If warm enough, a closing match, Montreal vs. Singles will be arranged for Thanksgiving Day, 26 October.

NOT A CONSERVATIVE

Edmonton, October 16, 1905. To the Editor Bulletin.

Edmonton, Alta.

Dear Sir:—

I am, as is well known, running as a candidate for the Peace River District in the general elections of Alberta.

I have been put down by some newspapers as running as a Conservative.

I beg to say that this is not correct and that I never had any intention of running as a Conservative.

Before the two parties had settled and published their platforms, I expressed the intention of running as an Independent.

I am strongly in favor of preserving the school system as existing prior to the formation of the new provinces, which system has been found satisfactory by every person interested in education, for many years.

When I had therefore an opportunity of studying and comparing the two platforms, and since the Hon. Mr. Butlerford in whom I have entire confidence, has been called upon to form a government, I have decided to unreservedly support his government and policy.

Thanking you for your courtesy in allowing me to make my position clear to the public, I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,
LEUCY DUBOIS

GENERAL ITEMS

Briefs From Many Sources Tell The Story of the Day's Events.

TO RELIEVE CONGESTION.
Yorkton, Oct. 15.—Seven grain elevators filled twenty-five cars which arrived to relieve the congestion.

"RALPH CONNOR" IN TROUBLE.
Buffalo, Oct. 15.—Ralph Connor (Rev. C. W. Gordon), author, was arrested here. He is charged with passing forged checks. He claims that the arrest is outrageous.

ONE BODY FOUND.
Kenora, Oct. 15.—The body of Anton Lorenz, one of the transcontinental surveyors, who was drowned has been found. Seventy men are grappling for the other three bodies.

JAP TROOPS MOVE.
Tokio, Oct. 15.—It is believed that the government has sent an order to Manchurian headquarters to begin the evacuation of Japanese troops.

SATISFACTORY LOCATION.
Winnipeg, Oct. 15.—The Northern Pacific and Great Northern have secured a site in the heart of the city for terminals.

The depot will be at the corner of Ellen and Ross streets. Over a million dollars options have been received from western railroads.

AMERICAN SHIP SEIZED.
Tokio, Oct. 15.—The naval authorities have announced the seizure of the American steamer Centennial on October 10 in the Syria Straits. The Centennial is an iron schooner, registered 2,075 tons. She is owned by the Charles Nelson Company, of San Francisco and sailed on September 13 for Vladivostok.

ELECTIONS FOR PARLIAMENT IN RUSSIA.
St. Petersburg, Oct. 15.—Yesterday was the day on which the first election for the members of the new National Assembly was held. Comparatively little interest was shown in the important event, excepting in large cities, where large crowds were gathered around the election places. Disturbances were reported but the first national election of the empire passed off far tamer than had been expected. The result will not be known for some days to come.

DOMINION TRADE.
Toronto, Oct. 15.—Bradstreet's report yesterday says trade is increasing, compared with a year ago. Collections, though are slow in some sections.

At Montreal wholesale trade in dry goods, hardware, groceries and woollens is all active. Canadian wool supplies are well cleaned up. Toronto woollens sell well as do also general dry goods, canned goods, hardware and building material. Poor cattle are on the market but are scarce. Mild weather has prevented an increase in retail trade, but wholesale trade is active. The movement of grain is very heavy. In British Columbia trade is very active, as are also all kinds of industries.

Failures for the week number 25 as against 25 last week and 18 in this week a year ago.

THE POLICY FOR THE FARMER AND RANCHER

The primary industry of Alberta is that of the farmer and stockman. While the resources of the province are not limited to farming and grazing lands these are the resources by which the present development of the province has been mainly attained and must form the basis of its development in the future. Whatever other lines of industry may contribute to the greatness of the province the work of the husbandman and the rancher must continue to be the chief element in our provincial progress.

It is of the first importance therefore to the province and to all its interests that the policy of the Provincial Government be shaped to continue the conditions which have made farming and ranching successful in Alberta, to remove so far as it falls within the duty and power of the Government to do so the disabilities under which these industries have been carried on and to further the means by which they may be made still more successful.

It is of vital importance to these important industries therefore that the provincial policy shall avoid disturbance or interference with the administration of farming and grazing lands which has been found to work to the satisfaction of these operations engaged in these operations. The policy of administering the land for the settler and of making as smooth as possible the pathway of the cultivator lies at the basis of the successful settlement of our farming lands and upon its continuance depends the expansion of this industry which the extent and capability of these lands warrant us in anticipating. Of not less importance to the rancher of the south is it that the policy should be maintained under which the rights of the stockman are guaranteed against infringement. The policy of Alberta Liberals is to not only permit the continuance of this method of administration but to avoid encroachment or relaxation of the method which has been found to work to the satisfaction of these industries. The policy of the Liberal Government is to not only permit the continuance of this method of administration but to avoid encroachment or relaxation of the method which has been found to work to the satisfaction of these industries.

After the method by which land may be obtained by the settler and rancher the question of most importance to those classes is that of the means of communication. However productive land may be or however well adapted by nature for stock-raising its value must depend in a large measure upon the facility with which the products can be taken to market and the requirements of the settler obtained from the trading centers. The question of roads and bridges is therefore not merely a question of personal convenience of movement but a question of the correct solution of which will have a vital part in the development of the basic industries of the Province. The basis for a practical and uniform policy of road and bridge construction and maintenance was thus laid down in the platform of the Calgary convention.

Resolved that in as much as the true development of the Province and the prosperity of the citizens depends in very large measure upon the enjoyment of proper facilities in all parts of the country for easy access to markets and inasmuch as the rapid influx of population and the establishment of new settlements render it impossible and also unwise that the new local improvement districts with their limited powers of taxation should be called upon to provide such facilities without material assistance from the Provincial revenue, therefore this convention declares its belief that the Government should adopt without delay a vigorous and practical policy of bridging the more important streams and of maintaining a first-class system of main thoroughfares to all market towns, the cost of which should be largely met out of the public funds of the Province.

But however great and valuable may be the home market created by the establishment of industries and the increase of population the Province must by reason of circumstances and nature be a heavy exporter and upon the early provision of efficient means for placing our products on the markets of the world the large measure depends the value of our local markets and in consequence the measure of profit coming to the producer. With this in mind will largely be secured by the two railway systems now constructing lines across the prairies it has been held by many that the most and most available export route for western produce lay through the Hudson Bay. The following resolution was therefore incorporated in the Liberal platform.

Resolved that inasmuch as the Provinces westward of the Great Lakes are peculiarly interested in the establishment of a route to the seaboard alternative to that afforded by railways to the Atlantic coast, and inasmuch as the creation of two new Provinces out of the Northwest Territories gives the first opportunity for co-operation with this end in view, therefore this convention is of the opinion that the earliest possible steps should be taken to secure joint action by the Governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia in order to ascertain definitely and finally the feasibility of the Hudson's Bay route as an outlet for our commodities and to decide upon the best method of constructing a railway by that route to tidewater, whereby the long land haul may be diminished by one half and the ocean voyage to European ports also materially decreased.

In these clauses ample provision is made for the inauguration of a practical policy of making easy the marketing of the produce of the farm and ranch, and for the establishment of further railway competition in placing the export produce on the market of the world. With satisfactory means of communication and transportation provided for the producer, and hence the prosperity of the productive industries depends on the market price of the product. The price of the product of the farm, so far at least as the home market is concerned depends largely on the development of the milling industry by which that product is turned into an article of consumption. The Liberal policy outlined in the following clause provides for the encouragement of this industry and hence for the betterment of the local market of the Province:

Resolved that this convention recognizes the great importance of the milling industry to the commercial life of this province and believes that the provincial government should foster and encourage this industry in every possible way.

The foreign market is beyond the control of the Provincial Government, but it lies within the power and policy of that Government to aid the farmer and rancher in every possible way in securing reliable information regarding that market and in so preparing his product that it may bring the highest price obtainable in that market. Clause 3 of the Liberal platform reads:

Resolved that inasmuch as the progress and prosperity of the Province will depend almost entirely upon the development of the agricultural and ranching industries, the provincial government should assist in every possible way and particularly by the establishment of a system of dairy instruction by encouraging these factories, creameries, forestry and fruit growing, by assisting the farmers and ranchers' associations to improve the breed of live stock of all kinds, by subsidizing agricultural fairs, by encouraging the full utilization of all farm products, and the preparation of such products for the market in the most condensed and remunerative form, by the collection and dissemination among the farmers and ranchers of the latest and fullest information as to the best available markets, and by extending to them every legitimate assistance in reaching those markets with the least possible loss of profit through excessive freight rates or the intervention of the middlemen.

The Provincial Government thus stands for a policy of maintaining the present satisfactory administration of the farming and grazing lands of the Province, of providing the means necessary to convey the produce of those lands to the markets at home and abroad and of doing so in such a manner that the producer obtains a satisfactory price for his product. In these matters the Provincial Government can do to assist the producer in obtaining a satisfactory price for his product. In these matters the Provincial Government can do to assist the producer in obtaining a satisfactory price for his product.

stands for the rapid and substantial progress of these productive industries wherein the future of the Province is in great measure depends.

Our Schools Constitution

What Mr Haultain Asked For

Section 93 of the B. N. A. Act which provides that:

"The Legislature may exclusively make laws in relation to education providing that nothing in any such law shall prejudicially affect any right or privilege with respect to denominational (separate) schools which any class of persons have by law in the province at the Union."

Note—Alberta entered the Union as a province on September 1, 1905. On that date The School Ordinances, Chapters 29 and 30, were in force, by which minorities, both Protestant and Catholic, had a right to separate schools, there being on that date five Roman Catholic separate schools in Alberta.

On the day of the London bye-election (June 13) the London Free Press, Conservative, said: "The plan of Mr. Haultain to dispose of the school question, namely, to adopt the B. N. A. Act automatically, in connection with the new provinces, meets with strong approval. Such a course, it is said, would secure the Catholics in the West in whatever privileges they now enjoy by law or custom. The clause in the Laurier Bill cannot do more, even if they do as much."

What The Ottawa Government Granted

Section 93 of the B. N. A. Act changed to read as follows:

"The Legislature may exclusively make laws in relation to education providing that nothing in any such law shall prejudicially affect any right or privilege with respect to separate schools which any class of persons have at the date of the passing of this Act, under the terms of Chapters 29 and 30 of the Ordinances of the Northwest Territories passed in the year 1901."

Note—There is no right or privilege guaranteed to minorities by the Alberta Act which would not be guaranteed by the application without altering the wording of Section 93 of the B. N. A. Act.

ALBERTA MAN MISSING

Young Rancher En Route to his Former Home Supposed to Have Been Murdered

Dillon, Montana dispatch: Watson Oliver, son of W. M. Oliver, who is chairman of the county commissioners of Beaverhead county, was murdered by an unknown man about twenty-five miles north of Helena on the night of September 23. Young Oliver left here last spring for the Alberta country in Canada, taking with him a wagon and five head of horses. He reached there during the summer and started for home last month for the winter, bringing with him his five horses and wagon.

While in Canada he met a Frenchman whom he had met in California last year. The Frenchman was accompanying him back here. When the young man crossed the Canadian line he wrote his father that he was en route home and to write him at Helena. His letter was received September 13. A letter written to him at Helena was returned on the 27th unopened. A postal card received by Mr. Oliver last Tuesday from a rancher north of Helena stated that he had bought some wagon wheels from a wagon supposed to be his and which he burned on the night of September 22 and asked if it was all right.

Mr. Oliver knew nothing of it and immediately left Dillon for this man's ranch to investigate. Wednesday he discovered that the last seen of his son Oliver was at Wolf creek in company with the Frenchman on September 23. The Frenchman went to the foreman of a bridge gang about twenty-five miles north of Helena and told him that a horse had kicked a lantern over and his wagon had burned up; that he saved the wheels and gave the foreman an order to sell the wheels and send the money to W. M. Oliver at Dillon.

He left the vicinity in a light rig, took three horses with him and left two on the ranch. Mr. Oliver and sixteen men searched all day Thursday for the body of his son, firmly believing that he had been murdered by the Frenchman.

At 6 o'clock this morning Mr. Oliver telephoned to Dillon that he had found the body concealed, but gave no particulars. He is expected home with the body of his murdered son tomorrow evening. No trace of the Frenchman can be found. He is supposed to be headed for California.

THE WAR IS OVER.

GALICIAN SETTLERS

E. W. Thompson in the Winnipeg Free Press, tells of a Drive Through the Colony

For Saskatchewan, Sept. 28. — If Emerson, with health and a Day could perform in New England the superfluous business of making the pomp of emperors ridiculous, that of the initiative enriched might well seem so to any ordinary mortals in a good spring wagon being a pair of byones on a hard prairie road in Alberta, with the great gray Saskatchewan river hurrying eastward on his team's course two hundred feet below the trail, its broad valley flanked by yellow and fluttering poplars, a cerulean sky, and his majesty, Our Lord, the Sun, pouring floods of shine on an immense landscape of grain fields, all streaks and stubble, with autumn's woodland bravery of gold and brown interspersed between. This is a country of rosebrush prairie, broken now by swales of hayland, now by lakes as blue as cobalt in this weather, again by bluffs of the round-leaved and the balsam-of-Gilead poplar. Often single trees, or little clumps, stand like immense yellow flowers on the open, the very color of tansy in early summer. Here are ducks, tens, hundreds, thousands on the lakes, black massed against the blue water, sliding in little companies, poking bowing bills of salutation and congratulation at one another, winging short flights or traversing the far atmosphere in wavering wedges to invisibility. Blackbirds innumerable take toll of the stocks, hurrying in a pure cussiness of enjoyment from field to field, sampling the amazing prodigality with which they imagine themselves to be seed. Great hawks often, and sometimes an eagle, slant and swoop and swoop and alight, searching for youngling grouse, "rembling hares." It is still too early for prairie chicken (pinnated grouse) to be numerous in the stubble. The jolly zopher is strangely absent. Small birds grey and brown, inset the ruts of the trail, scarcely bothering to evade horses and wheels. The coyote slinks to and stands staring from frequent mounds. There is such warmth from the sun that we almost sweat in light summer clothing and no overcoats. But when a little cloud moves across the glory a chill. The herald thrill of winter comes and passes. There is better than wine in the air, we see our gray horses drinking it with the delight of ourselves in long draughts of this true elixir.

My driver is a German from the Austrian Polish province of Galicia. He states sadly that the pork curer, whose establishment we hurry past, was pay only tree-and-run-half to five cents live weight, but one reflects that growing hogs for even the fate of Gaidarce swine might well seem sport in such a climate. His name is Mohr, a steady man of fifty. He came out here fifteen years ago, penniless. Now he has lots of land, and several landed sons. He speaks English, German and Russian both the Great and the Little, the Rutherfordian, the Bukovinian dialects. But the pride of his heart is a gold-headed cap of the immigration service, which causes good Galicians to salute him deferentially all along the road. But was not because de people was afraid, dey was only dey like de officer of de department. Ve was good to de people. Still, he has frequent long chuckles at de people thinking he was boss. He drives on my hand. When we come near an approaching wagon, always passing it on our left, I take of my hat and bow profoundly to the occupants. Mohr is unaware of this motion. They return this salutation with even more profoundity, and then Mohr bows in his stratified way, barely touching the magic gold band cap. He remarks that the department was got more popular all de time. Mohr has pleasant adventures driving journalists and other great men about to see the country. Recently he took out the Austrian consul. Dot consul was looking for keepers. He don't find none vile he was with me. Dey was no keepers anyway. Everybody was but good crops, everybody was more reech dan dey was in Austria. So he don't find noding to tell de Austrian government dot would help to stop dose Austrian peoples coming here. Mohr drove the German consuls of Montreal and Winnipeg last week. They were looking for kickers. Mr. Frankson, the Montreal consul, is a fine, soldierly upstanding handsome man, whom I interviewed at Edmonton. He reported the Germans everywhere well-to-do and contented in this country. In fact the continental European people, mostly peasants at home, ridden by the junkers, robbed by the usurers, liable to military service, in continual danger of being rushed to battle by their warlords, almost landless, almost hopeless of bettering their condition, are in purest satisfaction here with their large free homesteads, no taxation worth mentioning, complete liberty to rise, and the remarkable equality of the west. Especially is this Heaven, no matter if the winter climate corresponds to that of the Scandinavian Heia, to the Galician Slavs or peasant Poles. At home they are ruled by the Vienna and the local authorities, their language is tabooed by the aristocracies, they are drilled and dragooned in German, impoverished by the Hebrew usurer, kept ragged and wretched and ever afraid. Here they have quite overcome the prejudice at first aroused among Canadian and American people by their sheepskin costume, strange tongue and devotion to various Greek churches. They have "made good." It is hard to see how the townspeople of other races could get along without them. Their daughters wait on public tables alertly and manfully. They are the hotel chambermaids, housewives depend on them and are well rewarded for teaching them how, at country stopping places Galician men are hostlers and farriers all at once. They labor on the railways and roads. Not even Yankees are of more adventurous and individualistic spirit. They have initiative as if by blood. A Galician will join any gang of any nation, he alone, if he sees good money to be earned so. It is because these people as seen in the towns, are singularly interesting, that one goes for a long drive to their farming settlements wishing to see them at home, confer with their teachers and clergy, get a correct idea of their habits, methods and whole manner of life.

This fort is so called because a large detachment of the Northwest Mounted Police were formerly, in Indian times, located here. The position was chosen to many tribes and reserves. Now there are but fifteen of the force here. They have no supervision over the town. In country parts and villages, they do police work. Towny dignity is gained by 800 people. Here are about so many. The place, with its new, neat painted barracks and stables of the former large force. A town policeman, his office denoted only by a worded cap, says he has a snap. It appears to consist in his buttressing the door-jamb of the livery stable. He is a Pennsylvania man, caught young in Ontario, now with this and with the curious side-whiskers which often signify some swell condition in Ontario.

A large force of the Canadian Northern railway is building the approaches to a bridge that will cross the river about half a mile west of the Fort. It will be a steel structure on cement piers, the cement included in iron caissons. Charley Sharp, ever useful and gay, has been the pier contract. Probably pile work for a temporary bridge that can be used this fall will be put in immediately. The end of the track is some fifty miles eastward, approaching at the alleged rate of four miles a day. It is designed to reach Edmonton, twenty-two miles westward, by December 1. We crossed from the north shore by an overhead cable ferry, now operated by the Alberta government, fare 15 cents both ways. The Canadian Northern will be a boon to the rich country it traverses, and especially to Edmonton, which has hitherto had to get its freight and passengers by the long, round-about way through Calgary, only due south 200 miles. For lack of a railroad direct from Winnipeg, the farmers on routes of the C.N.R. have had to store their grain or haul it from ten to one hundred and twenty miles to railway stations.

We met men coming to Edmonton from Vermilion, nearly 100 miles eastward, with loads of oats, for which they would get about $20. One was an Ohio man, tall, gaunt, well-beaten by wind, sun and night camping for five days, cheerful, focused. "How are those English settlers?" "Lloydminster getting along?" he was asked. "Oh, they say nobody needn't have them on their minds after this. Good kind of fellows, only green grass," and he chirruped his bony beam toward the elevator.

It is curious that the English and Americans, fraternal, better Canadians and English. You see the English do not look down on Americans as "Colonials." The Norwegians have not had long experience in teaching or trying to teach English tenderfoot. Hence Brer Yankee in Canada, west still continues to take a humorous, not unkindly, pleasure in imparting information to the Johnnies. When out about Lloydminster two years ago I expostulated in print with my fellow countrymen for "running on" the English immigrants in stocks when they wouldn't stay put. As Mohr says "Of course de rooster preak all de ecks." There are far more pathetic tales, but these are unprintable, so—mealy-mouthed are newspaper readers supposed, by editors, to be. Everybody western says, "The English are all right after they have been broken in to the west. But it takes a darn long time to break 'em in." When they have put through that rough process of education they appear to get the usual Canadian relish for the blunders of English newcomers. For the country sublimely all lengthy residents to its humors. All call themselves Canadian with pride after a decade of service in the ranks of the New Nation.

SOME MEN ARE RICH

In Edmonton today because they had foresight enough two or three years ago to buy property which, as the city grew, advanced rapidly in value. Some of them were laughed at—people called them fools—but two short years have abundantly proved the correctness of their judgment, and they are reaping the reward of their faith in the city.

The growth of the city during the past two or three years has been great, but compared with the growth of the next two or three years it will be but as the dawn of day compared with the splendor of the noon-day sun.

You have the opportunity now to do as some few did in the past.

The Groat Estate

is now on the market at prices which will look small—very small, indeed—in the very near future. The city is growing westward rapidly and ere long this estate will be the choice residential part. No part of this estate is more than two miles from the very centre of Edmonton today—in five years it will be in the very heart of the city.

There are 500 lots—50 x 150 ft.—to be sold on easy terms—one-third cash, and the balance in six and twelve months, without interest. There will be no taxes to pay for over a year.

History Repeats Itself

You can buy from two to ten lots for the same money which it will take to purchase one in the present settled part of the city. Those who sow a few dollars now will reap a rich harvest in the not-far-distant future. Don't miss the chance now—TODAY—and have to say in a year: "What a fool I was that I didn't purchase a year ago." Somebody is going to make money on this estate—why not have a share of it?
